MR. STRYKER: I don't think we quite need his --

A -- on further recollection --

MR. STRYKER: Just a moment. -- until his Honor passes on it. I object to the answer after "I have no recollection," and from there on I ask it be stricken out.

THE COURT: I shall permit the answer.

MR. STRYKER: About how he regarded something?

THE COURT: I shall permit him to answer. Go ahead.

A (Continuing) Well, if I may say so, I was simply trying to state my reasons. After all, this is more than ten years ago, and one has to make a little effort to recollect just exactly what documents one has seen. And my feeling is in reading this document that it is sufficiently interesting and that I would have regarded it at that time as a sufficiently rich find.

MR. STRYKER: What?

Q As a rich find? A As a rich find, an unusually rich find, if I had seen it at that time, and I would remember it to this day, but I have no recollection of having seen it, or anything of the kind.

Q Thank you very much. Now, you said you went to Turkey sometime in 1938, did you? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you remember the time? A The date was March 9, 1938, and that is based on more than just recollection.
